Prolan Heavy Enduro corrosion protector

€29,04

€24,00 excl. VAT

Prolan Heavy Enduro is made from natural products, making it an eco-friendly alternative to protect stainless steel from the elements.

- Highly penetrating, penetrates metal and gives it a protective coating with long-term protection
- The lanolin content prevents oxygen from reaching the surface
- Moisture repellent and does not wash away and resists high-pressure cleaning of 170 bar, this by allowing at least 72 hours drying after application
- Resistant to acids, salts, fertilisers, acetone and thinner and corrosive elements in general
- Harmless to glass, or treated, painted surfaces in general.
- ProLan is only easily removed with odourless petroleum
- UV-resistant for up to 24 months
- It leaves a repellent surface and provides long-term protection
- The product is ideally suited for long-term use in salty environments.
- Apply it with the spray can and rub out with a microfibre cloth. It can also be processed with a roller or spray gun if necessary.
